

“SOFTS SKILLS : AN ULTIMATE TOOL FOR CORPORATE WORLD”

Soft skills are the non-technical skills that correlates how you work. As a working professional, I would like to say that today's corporate world without interpersonal skills is outside of the realm of the imagination.

Aspirants who prepare for campus drives shall sharpen the tool of people skills. Likewise, there are challenges for new-comers to improve behavioral traits which I have also faced to work in an organization.

Students should focus to have critical problem solving skills. One can practice about the business etiquettes which is a code of behavior in any organization. Nevertheless good presentation skills always matter to represent yourself in front of your senior associates.

In current scenario many campus drives are being conducted in virtual format only hence phone & E-mail etiquettes playing a dominant role.

Therefore keep on grooming yourself along with improving your technical competency in your field of interest.
